Background

The purpose of the Tribal Medical Relief Block Grant (MRBG) is for tribes to use this funding only for the purpose of providing health care services to individuals who are eligible for relief under Wisconsin Statutes 49.015. Information on this block grant can be found in Wisconsin Statutes Subchapter II of Chapter 49 and Wisconsin Administrative Code DHS 250. The funding for the MRBG comes from gaming revenue that is paid to the State.

Note: This block grant is appropriation 432.

Funding Per Tribe or Generalized Funding Statement

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) will inform each tribe of the amount of MRBG funding available to them for the year.

Scope of Work Summary

Tribes can use the MRBG funding to pay for health care services for individuals who are eligible for relief under Wisconsin Statutes 49.015. Tribes are required to provide information to DHS about the use of these funds, including:

- Emergency or non-emergency services that may be paid for with these funds.
- Financial and non-financial criteria used to determine who is eligible for health care services paid for with these funds.
- Cost containment measures.
- Appeal process.

The administration of these funds must follow the requirements described in Wisconsin Statutes Subchapter II of Chapter 49 and Wisconsin Administrative Code DHS 250.
